

ASX release

21 October 2010

Rights Issue – Amended Timetable

AtCor Medical (ASX: ACG), the developer and marketer of the SphygmoCor® system which measures central blood pressures and arterial stiffness noninvasively today issued a revised timetable for its rights offer. The change is due to 2 November 2010 being a non-business day, meaning that AtCor would not comply with the ex date being 4 business days before the record date. As such the Ex date has been brought forward one day and is now 28 October 2010. All other dates remain unchanged. A new timetable is below:

Rights Issue Details

Offer	1 share for every 6 shares held at the record date
Offer price	$0.07
Ex date	28 October 2010
Record date	4 November 2010
Offer opens	10 November 2010
Offer closes	26 November 2010
Allotment of new shares	2 December 2010
New shares commence trading on ASX	3 December 2010

Peter Manley
Company Secretary